

Mission and Objectives

Mission:

We advocate for and enrich the lives of people living with CHD through awareness, education, research and support.

Vision:

To be the leading voice for enriching the lives of Canadians with CHD.

Value Statement:

Building a dedicated CHD community that fosters compassion, empowerment and collaboration.

Our Objectives:

The objectives of the Canadian Congenital Heart Alliance (CCHA) include the following:

- Become the go-to organization that connects CHD organizations across Canada.
- Partner to build out CHD programs that will support and benefit the CHD community across Canada.

- Advocate for and assist with the advancement and dissemination of CHD research to the CHD community across Canada.
- Be a key resource and education partner for the CHD community
- Develop sustainable fundraising programs and sources to support the above objectives.
- Build a deeper awareness of CHD within the CHD community and the Canadian public at large.
